Baltimore Real Estate Agent Named One Of The Country's Top 50 Realtors® On The Rise

(Denver, Colo., October 26, 2007) - Local RE/MAX agent, Robert Commodari, has been named one of the nation's top 50 "Realtors® on the Rise" by RISMedia's Real Estate Magazine. The nomination recognizes new, innovative and successful real estate agents across the country.

Commodari, a native of Baltimore, joined RE/MAX Elite Realty in 2002 and has already established himself as a top-selling agent.

"Rob brings enthusiasm and motivation to a time and a market that's thirsty for it," said Ed Haywood, Owner of RE/MAX Elite Realty. "He's been a tremendous asset to our team, but more importantly has provided a true value and service to his clients."

Commodari grew up in Baltimore City, was a graduate of Curley High School and later Florida Atlantic University. Robert learned the values of hard work at an early age, at one time owning his own newspaper delivery service for over 10 years. Commodari became a licensed agent in 2001 and prefers to do business by referral, operating under the philosophy that his clients represent relationships he'll have for life, rather than just transactions. In his short tenure, he has earned multiple awards from RE/MAX including the Hall of Fame Award and a 2006 Chairman's Club Award.

Real Estate Magazine's editors selected Commodari and this year's winners, from hundreds of submissions, based on their innovative marketing strategies, community involvement, impressive sales figures and other criteria.

"We congratulate this year's winners on stepping up, pushing forward and committing to the real estate market," wrote Stephanie Andre, announcing the top 50, on Rismedia.com.

"Realtors on the Rise" nominees were required to submit a one-page resume and a 500-word summary of key accomplishments. They were then judged based on their success over the last year by incorporating today's best sales and marketing practices, customer service, technology skills, business savvy and negotiating prowess. RE/MAX Elite Realty has offices in Bel Air, Havre de Grace, and Baltimore with some of the most experienced real estate professionals in the Maryland and Pennsylvania markets.
