

RE/MAX and PAETEC Partner to Bring High-Tech Communications Platform to Real Estate Offices Across the Country

(Denver, CO August 4, 2008) – RE/MAX International, Inc. has formed a partnership with PAETEC, a U.S. company that delivers personalized communication solutions for business-class customers nationwide. The alliance will help RE/MAX offices across the country enhance their business operations by using advanced communications technology for data, Internet, voice, and IP-based (Internet Protocol) services.

More than 200 RE/MAX locations have already contracted with PAETEC, recognized as providing one of the more advanced and comprehensive platforms of integrated communications technology available today. The platform now available to RE/MAX offices as a result of this partnership includes, data and IP-based solutions, comprehensive voice solutions, advanced Toll-Free services and a unique Equipment for Services program that can subsidize the cost of capital expenditures.

"In an industry where communication is paramount, our offices need to have the most advanced communication management technology available," said Kristi Graning, Senior Vice President, Information Technology and eBusiness for RE/MAX International. "By partnering with PAETEC, RE/MAX Offices have an opportunity to integrate advanced technology into their businesses with the help of leading experts and at competitive prices."

"PAETEC is a trusted advisor on complex communications technology decisions, and our customer satisfaction levels set the benchmark for the communications industry," said Chris Bantoft, West Region President for PAETEC. "We look forward to making PAETEC's full range of data and voice solutions available to RE/MAX offices nationwide."

In addition to PAETEC's extensive product portfolio, the company has a dedicated national RE/MAX support team for customer service and other needs.
