(February 23, 2009) Denver, CO - Children's Miracle Network, based in Salt Lake City, UT, is proud to announce that RE/MAX real estate agents raised more than $8 million for the charity in 2008. From the time that RE/MAX began its relationship with Children's Miracle Network in 1992, RE/MAX Associates worldwide have raised more than $93 million for the cause.

"We are so proud of the support our agents have shown for Children's Miracle Network, especially during this economic downturn," said Mike Reagan, Senior Vice President of Brand Marketing at RE/MAX International. "The bottom line remains that the millions of kids with health challenges, who benefit from Children's Miracle Network, still need our help, and we're glad so many of our dedicated agents have been able to give so much to these deserving kids."

RE/MAX International is the official real estate sponsor of Children's Miracle Network, and offers many options for real estate agents to become involved with the charity. Through The Miracle Home® program, exclusive to RE/MAX, Sales Associates are able to donate a portion of every transaction to Children's Miracle Network. Each year, these donations made by RE/MAX Associates across North America directly help children in need by supporting hospitals in the Children's Miracle Network.

"Words can't describe how grateful we are to have the support of RE/MAX and their extensive network of real estate agents," said Val Durrant, Senior Director, Major Accounts for Children's Miracle Network. "We continue to cherish our relationship with RE/MAX, and look forward to another great year of support in 2009."
